

Looking for 8- to 13-year-old Brothers and Sisters of Children with ADHD

(This study is supervised by Dr Steven Shaw.)

We are examining the impact of ADHD (as well as conduct disorder and oppositional defiant disorder) on sibling relationships and development. This has important implications for educators and professionals who work with your children.

Our study consists of a package of 3 questionnaires that is mailed to you for your child to complete (return postage included). Most children take between 20-30 minutes to complete this task. As a token of appreciation, a Cineplex movie ticket voucher is given for your participation.

If interested or for more information, please contact Amelia Woo at the McGill University Genetics and Developmental Disabilities Laboratory:
huibin.woo@mail.mcgill.ca
TEL: (514) 398-5833

